

WIRED FOR BRILLIANCE

UNLEASHING THE POWER OF PERSONAL CONNECTIONS AND EMOTIONAL INTELLIGENCE

Wired for Brilliance is all about sorting out the important stuff regarding relationships, emotional intelligence and how you relate to a life of purpose.

This course will show you how to make your emotional intelligence, relational intelligence and even vertical intelligence work for you and not against you. After all, brilliant lives force us out of our own heads and into the lives of others. And that's where all the good stuff happens!

- Identify your primary personality type.
- Improve your ability to understand and connect with others.
- Recognize and find your life's purpose.
- Discover strategies for rewiring your brain for greater success.
- Apply your understanding of emotional intelligence to leadership success.

Conference Outline

- “Unleash Your Inner Breed” Step one is to understand your personality type! Identify your dominant personality and understand the personalities of others. You will understand how to improve your relationships, motivate others and understand how “expectations” impact everything!
- “Unleash Your Connection Powers” Step two is all about your communication skills. We'll work on improving your first-impressions, refining your “small talk,” reading body language and creating quality “sticky” communication.
- “Unleash Your Vertical Intelligence” Many people talk about emotional and relational intelligence. Very few speak about “vertical intelligence.” In this session we will help you identify your passions, your life's purpose and how to become more “authentic.”
- “Unleash Your Brain Power” Take steps to rewire your thinking and your success!
- “Unleash Your Leadership” We will apply all that we've discussed to leadership. We will rethink leadership definitions, discuss personality-based leadership strengths and weaknesses and recognize the power of servant-based leadership.
